Become Citizens. Labor Unions will largely depopula ting the Dominion of Canada. It pro vides that no foreigners may come into the United States and obtain temporary employment. If they come at all, they must come to stay, and take out paturallzation papers.

This will apply directly, and was n doubt intended to do so, to about one million Canadians, men, women and girls, who are regularly employed for a part of each year in the factories of New York and New England. The daughters of a family will come down and work for a few months, and thea go home to look after the household, while their places are taken by their mothers or sisters. Thus they migrate back and forth, the whole family speading half the year in the United States and the other half in Canada.

The same is true to a less extent of lumbermen on the border, both in the maritime previnces and in the North-Wages being so much higher in the United States than in the Dominion of Casada, the lumbermen, like factory hands, come over to seek employment, leaving their families at home, and returning to them at the end of the sea-Rather than lose this employment a large majority of these people will give up their homes and remain permanently in the United States.

Many Italians come to this countr seeking temporary employment. They work a few years and then go home and live comfortably npon their savings for the rest of their lives.

The new law will apply also to thouands of Mexicans along the Rio Grande who have temporary employment upor the railroade and ranches in the United States. It provides that an immigrant to be admitted to the ports of the United States mast be able to read and write the English lauguage or the language of the country from which he comes If strictly applied, this provision will shut out all immigrants from Poland.
